Sugar!

1. Imagine that your friend has a deep cut. All you have to treat it with is sugar. How do you think they would feel about that? What would you say to them to explain how the sugar works?

An illustration of a young boy with brown hair, wearing an orange shirt. He has a sad expression and is holding his right hand, which has a deep cut on the palm. Blue lines represent blood or pain emanating from the wound.

2. Which is the better dessert: Ice cream, or cake? Explain your choice, giving at least three reasons and convincing examples.

3. We learned in the podcast about some strange confections. Now it's your turn to create a crazy candy! Design an ad below that introduces the world to your sweet treat.
