Ned Kelly

1. Why do you think Ned Kelly is so famous, more than 140 years after he died?

2. This picture was taken of Ned Kelly the day before he died. Pretend that you are Ned, and write a diary entry about what you're thinking and feeling.

Two large, rounded rectangular boxes with a pink border, intended for writing a diary entry. The boxes are positioned on the left and right pages of a notebook layout.

3. When there was a fight between the Kellys and police officer Alexander Fitzpatrick, Fitzpatrick's story was believed—even though his boss had called him "generally bad and a discredit to the force". If an incident like this happened today, what do you think would happen? Why?

4. Ned Kelly risked his own life to save a kid from drowning; he threw a party for his hostages at least once; and he burned a bank's paperwork so that the poor people who owed the bank money wouldn't have to pay. He was also found guilty of murder and armed robbery. What kind of person do you think he was? Explain.
