

REFERENDUM

The board game

No matter the outcome,
it's a win for democracy!

Roll an odd number and the 'Yes' side wins and so do you. Australia's name is changed! Roll an even number and the 'No' side wins. Send every player back to the start.

47	46	45	44	43	42	41
47	Butchers win the day, selling out of democracy sausages.	Voters write YES or NO on their ballot papers.	REFERENDUM DAY finally arrives.	Early polling opens. Lots of people turn out to vote.	 BALLOT BOX	Ballot papers are printed but there's a problem with the ink.
33	34	35	37	38	39	40
	The Australian Electoral Commission publishes both sides' arguments.		The Prime Minister announces the referendum date.		Media coverage of both sides is non-stop.
32	31	30	29	28	27	26
	 Squiz Kids reports on the referendum, asking young people their thoughts.		People are worried about negative impacts of a name change.	The Prime Minister announces a referendum.
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
	The bill is presented in the Senate.		There is lots of debate and amendments are made to the bill.
16	15	14	13	12	11	10
The bill passes with a majority in the House of Representatives.	The Prime Minister makes a passionate speech.	Speeches are made in Parliament against the bill.			A bill is presented to the House of Representatives.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
People have been expressing their ideas.	Some people want to change Australia's name to...		A rally is held to gather support.		Many people attend the rally.	Other people worry that tourism might be affected.