

Who, what, where, when, why and how?

A Whale Of A Time!

When writing a summary, it's important to make sure you cover the who, what, where, when, why, and how of the story. In the podcast today, Bryce told you about an incredible real-life adventure—when a humpback whale accidentally scooped up a kayaker off the coast of Chile!

First, let's make sure you picked out all the important points. Make some notes using the following prompts:

- Who was involved?
- Where did it happen?
- When did it happen?
- What happened?
- How did it happen?
- Why did it happen?

Now, number the boxes to indicate the best order to put the 5Ws and H in, to summarise this story.

Finally, write your own summary of the whale story, making sure to include the 5 'w's and the 'h'. Come up with a catchy headline.
